HISTORY OF SHREE RAMAR TEMPLE

The epic of Sree Rama whose influence has been felt widely in south East Asia inspired the late Tun V.T. Sambanthan to build a temple for Sree Rama. NLFCS's Kuala Perak Estate which is situated near Bagan Datoh where Sungei Perak meets the sea was chosen for the temple.

Mr.G.Thiagarajan, a well-known architect from famous Mahabalipuram in Tamil Nadu drew the architectural plans for the temple. The temple foundation-stone was laid by Tun V.T. Sambanthan, Tan Sri Dato K.R.Somasundram, Late Thiru K.K.Samy, Thiru V.Meenachi Sundram and the Directors of NLFCS on an auspicious day in September 1977 in the presence of Mr.G.Vanmeeganathan, a renowned temple sculptor who was specially assigned from Mahabalipuram, Tamil Nadu for the construction of the temple.

Unfortunately, the late Tun Sambanthan who aspired to build the temple and laid its foundation died on 18.5.1979. His efforts to build the temple were continued with utmost priority by Tan Sri Dato K.R.Somasundram and the Board of Directors of NLFCS who genuinely deserve the credit for completing the construction of the temple.

With the help of more than 30 sculptors, Mr.G.Vanmeeganathan has constructed the temple as a masterpiece which is artistic and intriguing with a unique architectural structure. He has constructed the temple Inner Sanctum, Vimaanam, Great Hall, Gopurams, Garuda's Shrine, Place of Sacrifice and Flag Pole according to relevant Hindu sastras.

24 granite pillars, each of which was specially carved with sculptures of four Saiva and Vaishnava holy people by skilled workers in the Art Gallery of Mahabalipuram were brought by ship and erected as supporting pillars for the temple.

The statues of Sree Rama, Sree Seetha, Letchumanan and Hanuman also from Mahabalipuram have been housed in the inner sanctum of the temple together with 'Urchava Moorthis'.

The first Maha Sambrotchanam (Maha Kumbhabhisegam) for Sri Rama Temple was carried out by 7 Battachariars (priests) under the direction of Sri Sambasiva Sivachariar of Tamil Nadu on 25th May, 1989.

As part of the second phase of the Sri Rama temple construction work, shrines for Lord Ganesha, Letvhumanan and Hanuman have been completed as planned and Kumbhabhisegam for there shrines are also being held today.
